

Bernie Banton's on board

13 March 2007

Asbestos victim and Vice President of the Asbestos Diseases Foundation Bernie Banton will today announce his public support for the 'A Fair Go For Injured People', campaign.

Mr Banton was at the forefront of the campaign against James Hardie Industries, working tirelessly to ensure present and future asbestos victims received the compensation they deserved.

'A Fair Go For Injured People' mounted by the country's peak legal bodies is aimed at ensuring victims of someone else's negligence get a fair go and fair compensation.

Mr Banton said it was the Hardie's saga all over again.

"People are being denied their rights to access the proper compensation which they deserve.

"I've been telling the Government for some time that the compensation system is broken and needs to be fixed.

"Any system which interferes with your compensation rights is unfair and unjust. Whenever the pendulum swings too far, innocent people get hurt," said Mr Banton.
